SHERI-ANN

BEST

Sheri-Ann Best began her professional career at a local children's mentoring agency where she established two mentoring programs for young women, at Wyandanch High School and Milton L. Olive Middle School in the Wyandanch School District. In 2003, Sheri-Ann became a Licensed Master Social Worker and began working at the Mental Health Association of Nassau County, where, ultimately, she became the Director of Care Coordination. She also worked as a psychotherapist at the former Roosevelt Counseling and Resource Center. In 2011, Sheri-Ann launched a psychotherapy practice, Broadhollow Psychotherapy PLLC in Farmingdale, NY. It's focus is minority mental health, increasing mental wellness and trauma recovery. Sheri-Ann is a member of the National Association of Professional Women and the Phi Alpha Honor Society for Social Work.
